

Julie Marsh, PhD CStat

Julie is an experienced statistical consultant who worked in the pharmaceutical industry for many years before returning to academia. She teaches statistics at the University of Western Australia and is a Senior Research Fellow at the Telethon Kids Institute, where she specialises in adaptive clinical trials, statistical methods for detecting adverse events following immunisation and the longitudinal analysis of birth cohorts.